

Professional Practice Seminar: Emerging Modes of Practice

AIA San Diego | A Chapter of The American Institute of Architects

With the recent downturn in the economy and its effect on the construction industry, these are trying and difficult times. However, this is also an opportunity for architects to retool, rediscover, expand influence and knowledge, and diversify our skills. Invest in your professional development and spend a day with some of the most cutting-edge architects and design professionals!

Morning sessions will explain why you need to begin implementing Building Information Modeling (BIM) technology in your practice, as well as the technological requirements and real cost of implementation. The afternoon panel will introduce you to leading professionals that have leveraged their design backgrounds into successful positions in the development, facilities, sustainability, and technology industries.
