For Immediate Release:

San Diego, CA - April 11, 2013 - The American Institute of Architects San Diego (AIASD) will host an Open House event honoring its 86th anniversary as a leading advocate for architecture and design in San Diego. AIASD members, affiliates, partners and other guests are invited to meet the Board of Directors and staff, as well as view the newly redecorated office space on Wednesday, April 24, 2013 from 4:30 – 6:30PM. The AIASD is headquartered at 233 A Street, Suite 200, San Diego, CA 92101 in the historic Center City Building.

“AIA San Diego supports the values of professional excellence, design, planning, sustainability and public engagement. Our 800+ members work with clients, both private and public, to help create places and spaces that are beautiful, efficient and of lasting benefit, not just for the patron but for the wider community,” said Richard Nowicki, 2013 President of the AIA San Diego Board of Directors. “AIA San Diego members help shape the future while advancing the idea that design matters and is accessible to clients, no matter how modest or ambitious the project.”

Please RSVP to Buu Huynh, Programs and Communications Coordinator at bhuynh@aiasandiego.org or call (619)232-0109.

Founded in 1927, AIA San Diego Chapter is a local component of the American Institute of Architects. The chapter provides a variety of services, resources, and support to the local architecture and design community. www.aiasandiego.org.
